

SAMS Fotofacts® + CB Service Data

COMPLETE INDEX OF SAMS CB FOTOFACETS® VOLUMES 1–293 Plus model info gathered from CBCI that's not in a SAMS

Latest update & additions: August 1, 2002

Following is an alphabetical list (by manufacturer) that shows all the CB radio tech data ever published in SAMS Fotofacts®, from Volume #1 (Nov. 1961) to Volume #293 (April 1981). If you're new to CB and wondering why anybody would care about old radios of 20+ years, it's because there are still tens of thousands of these being actively used, modified for 10-Meter Ham conversions, or lovingly restored by CB collectors. They all need servicing or repair eventually. Many of these are still being made and sold today, often under different manufacturer or brand names.

Each SAMS book includes 3-6 models and has large, easy-to-follow foldout schematics and detailed service and alignment information, specs, voltages, layout photos, parts lists, resistance charts for tube types, etc. We've also included models that weren't in SAMS under their own names, but are known to be similar or even identical to others that are listed.

Again, you'll be amazed at how many current CBs are either identical to those listed, or very close electrically. For example, the President Grant (late) is identical to the Uniden Grant, Grant LT, Grant XL, and the Cobra 29GTL is identical to the Cobra 29LTD or Uniden PC76XL, which are still being sold since this page was written. The earlier names are in SAMS, and we tell you that. Many popular models have both a mobile and base version published in SAMS; the main chassis/PCB are identical, so unless you know it's a problem in the AC-to-DC power supply or some other circuit unique to bases, you can use the book for the mobile version if you can't get the other.

If you should order one of our CB TUNE-UP and MODIFICATION REPORTS for a particular common model, every other known brand name and SAMS number will be included there too. If you're hitting the flea markets, our MASTER LIST OF PLL CBs also includes the SAMS number for these models.

The original CB Fotofacts® books are now out of print, but the company is still in business and says they will sell you a complete photocopy of any available model for about $20. Contact them directly at:

Most popular identical chassis are grouped together in our CB PLL DATA BOOK. If you can't get the SAMS book for a specific model, you may be able to find one for the same chassis under a different brand name. At the bottom of this page we've listed many newer "export" type multimode CBs and 10-Meter "Amateur Radios" that are often covered completely in our own special CYBERNET, UNIDEN, and GALAXY-RANGER Service Manuals.

NOTES:

1. (EP) = Early Production; (LP) = Late Production. These may be completely different main chassis, or may have just minor changes from the earlier chassis. (Sometimes uses "A", "B", etc. instead.)
2. All newer COBRA & UNIDEN models with suffixes like "Classic", "XL", "XLW", "WX", "F", "NW", or "ST" have very similar or even identical main chassis to their earlier cousins that are in the SAMS. These usually mean they've included a small add-on PC board like a Weather Receiver or Frequency Counter. For example, the Cobra 29LTD is identical to the 29LTD-WX, the Uniden Grant and Grant LT or XL are identical to the President

SAMS Photofacts CB Radio Index List

Grant, the Cobra 148GTL is the same as the Cobra 148E-GTL, and so on. Sometimes there are minor parts number changes (TR10 = Q10, etc.)

3. The letter "B" at the end sometimes means the Base version of an otherwise identical mobile chassis (Midland 13-862 & 13-862B, Pace Sidetalk 1000M & Sidetalk 1000B, etc.)

4. * = Model not in SAMS. Either it never was, or it was made after SAMS quit. These are often from Cobra, Midland, Realistic, or Uniden, and may be so new the manual isn't ready yet, or it was already published but is now out of print. We often have aids like schematics, voltage charts, or even the manufacturer's complete service manual. Please write, FAX, or Email for details.

5. † = Model not in SAMS. It's officially a "10 Meter" radio, but we all know these are just glorified CBs with minor circuit changes to get them legally into the U.S. We have many schematics, etc.

6. ‡ = Model not in SAMS, but is included in our Cybernet, Galaxy-Ranger, or Uniden service manuals; see end of this file.

TIP: Finding & Replacing Old Transformers in Tube Type CB Rigs

Many people have asked us where to find power and audio replacement transformers for the older CB radios. The original parts can be unmarked or even unreadable, but as long as you have a schematic and are willing to make some phone calls or write, it can be done. You don't need an exact replacement; just make sure the voltage winding tap(s) and the current ratings (for power types) or the input/output impedances (for audio types) are somewhere close in value. And you may need to physically remount it slightly, usually by just drilling one or two new holes in the chassis to match the new transformer's mounting hole spacing.

The best-known manufacturers of old CB power and audio transformers from the tube rig era were Stancor, Thordardson, and Triad. They are all still in business, sometimes with a new name. Look up their contact info on our Electronics Suppliers Web page.
